*An approved return to work service provider means a provider approved by RTWSA to deliver specific recovery/return to work services (e.g. pre-injury employer, fit for work, restoration to the community and return to work assessment) in accordance with conditions set out in the Application for Approval as a South Australian Return to Work Service Provider.

Remedial massage service and payment policy

The purpose of remedial massage services is to provide treatment of specific soft tissue disorders or dysfunctions that assists a worker in their recovery and supports them to stay at or return to work as soon as it is safe for them to do so.

ReturnToWorkSA will periodically review a worker's access to services to ensure that the treatment and services remain reasonable for the work injury and are payable under the Return to Work Act 2014.

ReturnToWorkSA expects the provision of services to be consistent with this fee schedule and policy, which has been developed to comprehensively meet the needs of worker's requiring remedial massage treatment. Services provided outside of this fee schedule and policy may only be approved by the claims manager where there is no comparable service within the fee schedule and the service is determined as reasonably required in consequence of the work injury.

Who can provide remedial massage services to workers

ReturnToWorkSA will only pay for remedial massage services delivered by providers who hold:

- ✓ a Diploma in Remedial Massage from a nationally Recognised Training Organisation (RTO)
- ✓ professional indemnity insurance (minimum $2 million in any one claim) and public liability insurance (minimum $2 million in any one claim)
- ✓ a recognised and current accredited senior first aid/apply first aid certificate, from an accredited body such as Red Cross or St John.

Who can refer for remedial massage services

Remedial massage services require a current written referral from a health practitioner* for a maximum of 10 sessions.

A referral must include:

- how the service is intended to increase and maintain the worker's functional ability
- specific body area to be treated (relevant to the work injury described on the Work Capacity Certificate)
- the number of services to be provided (up to the maximum of 10 services)
- how long the service should be provided
- dates of review.

Where a worker self-refers, the remedial massage provider should contact the relevant claims manager for approval prior to delivering the service.

The provision of treatment must be in accordance with the following best practice standards:

- If at four treatments it is clear that remedial massage will be of no benefit to the worker, the remedial massage provider has an obligation to discontinue treatment, and the worker should return to the referring health practitioner.

- If improvement is occurring after four treatments, a course of 10 treatments may be beneficial where consistent improvement in functional ability has been demonstrated and maintained after the first four treatments. Approval for a subsequent course of treatment will be determined on a case-by-case basis.
- A remedial massage provider does not have the authority to refer for remedial massage or other services such as exercise programs, aquatic therapy or a gymnasium program.

* A health practitioner is defined as a medical practitioner, dentist, psychologist, optician, physiotherapist, chiropractor, podiatrist, occupational therapist, osteopath, speech pathologist.

How much the Insurer will pay

ReturnToWorkSA or a self-insurer will pay the reasonable cost of remedial massage services.
